

Application for an International Import Certificate

INFORMATION ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL IMPORT CERTIFICATE APPLICATION FORM

What is an International Import Certificate?

Some countries require certification from the Australian Government that certain items will be subject to Australian export control laws before they will grant permission for the item to be exported from that country. The Defence Export Control Office (DECO) can only issue an International Import Certificate for goods and technology that are on the Defence and Strategic Goods List and are therefore controlled for export under Regulation 13E of the Customs (Prohibited Exports) Regulations 1958 or the Defence Trade Controls Act 2012.

The International Import Certificate is not a permission to import; rather, it is a certification to a foreign government that the imported goods will be subject to Australian export control laws once the items have been imported into Australia. It is the responsibility of the importer to refer to the Australian Customs & Border Protection Service (www.customs.gov.au) and relevant State Regulations on whether an import permit is required.

Prior to submitting your application you should ensure you have completed each of the questions and that all of the required supporting documentation is attached. An incomplete application may result in a delay of the assessment.

COLLECTION, USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

The personal information you provide in this application form is being collected by the Department of Defence for the purpose of assessing your application for an International Import Certificate.

Defence may also use the information when undertaking other export control functions including compliance activities, and to contact you with information regarding export controls. Defence may provide some or all of the information to other Australian Government agencies involved in the administration of export control legislation including the Australian Customs and Border Protection Service, law enforcement and intelligence agencies. In some circumstances, Defence is required to provide some or all of this information to the relevant Government agency of the Foreign Supplier's country. Defence will not disclose your personal information beyond these circumstances unless authorised to do so by law.

The Department of Defence has a Defence Privacy Policy. The Defence Privacy Policy contains information on how an individual may apply for access to their personal information and how an individual may apply to have their personal information amended. The Defence Privacy Policy also contains information for individuals on how to make a privacy complaint to Defence if they consider Defence may have breached the Australian Privacy Principles. A copy of the Defence Privacy Policy can be found at www.defence.gov.au. For more information, the Defence Privacy Officer can be contacted by email at defence.privacy@defence.gov.au.

If you require further assistance please contact DECO by telephone on 1800 66 10 66 or by email at deco@defence.gov.au.
